

DIGICOMM, INC.

June 5, 2007

To Whom It May Concern:

I am currently being engaged by the Fox Pharmaceuticals, Inc. as their owner's representative, having overseen the installation of numerous Biotech and Pharmaceutical installations, big and small. I have to say that I have never seen such a cost effective group as Validation Plus. Where other groups provide an ill-defined proposal of work and scope, Validation Plus provided specifics on deliverables and time estimates, and now is on schedule toward making good on their estimates. Whereas other groups do not provide options for saving money, Validation Plus has shown their willingness to work with existing employees or contractors in order to minimize cost for the client.

If your goal is to get up and running quickly and for minimum cost while conforming to regulatory requirements, then you would be well served to use Validation Plus.

Sincerely,

Barry W. Brian, Ph.D., P.E.
President